

EXCERPTS FROM PROVERBS, PROMISES, AND PRINCIPLES

by Vern McLellan

Great braggers are small doers

Self-deception is a short blanket--if you pull it over your face, you expose your feet

He who cannot mind his own business should not be trusted with the king's

He who is faultless is lifeless

He who wants the fruit must first climb the tree

He who tells a secret is another man's servant

He who stands for nothing is apt to fall for anything

He who kills time injures eternity

He who is walking on clouds is apt to be carried away

He who shoots often will eventually hit the mark

He who will not learn from anyone but himself has a fool for a teacher

He who throws dirt may hit his mark but will have dirty hands

If you are a child of God and you marry a child of the devil, you will be sure to have constant trouble with your father-in-law

He who stays in the valley will never get over the hill

He who is always watching the clock never becomes the man of the hour

Be patient with the faults of others, they may have to be patient with yours

He who wears out his pants before his shoes makes too many contacts in the wrong places

He who knows little too often shares it

He who falls in love with himself will have no competition

He who flees temptation should not leave a forwarding address

God gives us the ingredients for our daily bread, but He expects us to do the baking

He who gets to the end of his rope should tie a knot and hang on

He who thinks it permissible to tell "white lies" soon grows color-blind

He who is willing to face the music will someday lead the band

He who swims in sin will sink in shame

He who keeps his foot on first base can't steal second base
